Your Perpetual Flame Let the memory of your loved one shine brightly forever

A special edition of unique hand-crafted glass flames from internationally renowned glass artist Allister Malcolm, produced in partnership with Worcester Cathedral.

Worcester Cathedral is delighted to collaborating with internationally renowned glass artist Allister Malcolm to create an exclusive special edition of hand-crafted glass Perpetual Flames. These unique and beautiful in-memory pieces are designed to be a symbolic and poignant permanent reminder that the memory of our loved ones live on, brightly, forever.

Allister Malcolm explained, "I really enjoy working on projects that allow our glass to be appreciated by different audiences. It was an honour to be approached to develop something unique for the Cathedral. The idea of creating something inspired by the process of lighting a votive really appealed to me. Hopefully, these pieces collectively will have a symbolic impact and mean a great deal to those who then take one."

Every day in Worcester Cathedral hundreds of candles are lit as a sign of prayer, remembrance, and thanksgiving. Lighting a candle in memory of someone we have loved and lost is a meaningful way to remember and honour their life and the time we spent with them. We know that a Perpetual Flame will form a fitting tribute to the memory of your loved one.

Allister shares our passion for the environment and sustainability, making him the perfect partner for this project. His hot glass studio now uses 100% renewable energy, and he is the first glass artist in the UK to convert to working with an electrically powered kiln and furnace instead of gas. Here at Worcester Cathedral, we have committed to minimising our negative corporate impact on the environment and achieve net zero emissions by 2030.
